

Arrivals of Castoria & Valentin featured in Bloomberg's Business of Law

The recent arrivals of Louie Castoria, partner in San Francisco and director of the West Coast Professional Liability Practice Group, and Iram Valentin, partner in New Jersey, has been featured in Bloomberg's Business of Law column. The excerpt can be found below, or to view the full column on the Bloomberg website, click here.

Bloomberg - Business of Law (July 29, 2014)

Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck LLP announced that Louis Castoria has joined the firm as a partner in San Francisco and director of the firm's West Coast professional liability practice group. Previously, Castoria was chairman of the specialty professional risks practice group, co-chairman of the securities industry practice group and founding member of the accountants, insurance/reinsurance and commercial services practice groups at Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker LLP.

Additionally, Iram P. Valentin rejoined Kaufman Dolowich as a partner in Hackensack, New Jersey. He focuses on professional liability defense, financial services litigation and complex civil litigation. He rejoined the firm from Gonzo Law Group, where he was a shareholder in the firm's Hackensack office.