Law360 quotes Christopher Nucifora regarding attorneys' fees decision by NJ Supreme Court

Law360, New York (September 12, 2013, 9:54 PM ET) — A New Jersey Supreme Court decision Thursday that limits when plaintiffs suing under the state's Consumer Fraud Act can reap legal fees should comfort defendants and make attorneys think twice before pursuing a claim under the powerful statute where they can't make a viable case for real harm, attorneys told Law360.
