

Learn about the Federal and State (PA and NJ) Employment Laws that Impact Community Associations that Employ Staff

By Philip Voluck

When homeowner associations, condominiums and building management companies think of their legal needs, employment law rarely comes to mind. Yet, these same entities are often a breeding ground for workplace claims of discrimination, retaliation, and unpaid compensation. This brief video takes employers through the basics of the federal laws that apply to them.