

Architects and Engineers

New technology, an unpredictable economy, and evolving industry rules and ethical guidelines have resulted in this environment, architects and engineers face increased exposure to charges of professional malpractice.

Kaufman Dolowich's Professional Liability team of experienced trial attorneys is well-versed in these areas, and understands the benefits of early settlement efforts, when appropriate, and in other cases to present their best defenses in terms a judge, arbitrator, or juror can follow.