

Annual Hispanic National Bar Association's (HNBA) Annual Conference

Maritza Gomez partner with Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck in Florida, will be a panelist on September 28, 2019 during the Annual Hispanic National Bar Association's Annual Conference being held at the New York Hilton Midtown in New York City (Sept. 26 - 29, 2019).

"Becoming a Culturally Competent Lawyer in a Global Society"

Presenting on tips to successfully navigate diverse clients and cultures for a thriving law practice in our global society. This panel will give an overview of how implicit bias works, practical solutions to ensure that you can respond professionally, respectfully and ethically to the needs of your clients and fellow attorneys. Additionally, this panel will focus on how to become a more effective advocate and colleague within a globally diverse environment. Participants may obtain NYC CLE credits for Diversity, Inclusion and Elimination of Bias required credits.