Christopher Brown Joins Kaufman Dolowich as Litigation Partner in Health Care/Managed Care Practice in Orlando

(February 24, 2021, Orlando, FL) — Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck LLP (KD) announced that Christopher E. Brown has joined the firm as a litigation partner in its Health Care/Managed Care practice in Orlando.

Prior to joining KD, Brown was a partner in the Orlando office of Quintairos, Prieto, Wood & Boyner, P.A. Abbye Alexander, co-chair of KD's Health Care/Managed Care Practice Group, joined KD from the same firm in 2019.

Brown's litigation practice focuses on health care law including professional licensure hearings and investigations, defense of physicians, hospitals and long-term care facilities, Medicare and Medicaid fraud and reimbursement, federal and state regulatory board proceedings and Florida Department of Health investigations.

"We know that COVID-19 related lawsuits involving long-term care and assisted living facilities will be front and center for two or more years, and having Chris, who has vast experience in this type of litigation, will be a tremendous asset for our clients," said Bruce S. Liebman, co-managing partner of KD's Florida offices.

"Over the years, I have worked with Abbye and other KD attorneys and I am excited to join a firm with so many talented lawyers," said Brown. "KD has a great culture and the national platform offers me the opportunity to expand my career in health care and managed care law."

Brown earned his J.D. from Barry University School of Law and his B.A. from Coastal Carolina University. He is a member of the American Health Lawyers Association (AHLA) and is active in the Health Law Section of the Florida Bar. He was named a Pro Bono Champion by AHLA for his work recovering disability benefits for disabled veterans.
