

Ivan Dolowich Co-Hosting Claim Executive of the Year Awards Banquet

The Claim Executive of the Year (CEY) Awards Banquet is an annual dinner that was founded by Chris Cavallaro, of ARC Excess & Surplus, and Ivan Dolowich, of Kaufman Dolowich Voluck, LLP to honor and recognize leadership, character and technical expertise in the claims side of the Management and Professional Liability insurance business. Recipients are chosen based on their years of service and contribution to the insurance industry, and the example of leadership and professionalism they set for their peers and colleagues.

While guests enjoyed an exciting evening filled with fine food and laughter, a charity of the honoree's choosing was selected to receive the proceeds from the event.

The recipient of the Claims Executive of the Year Award is Anthony Tatulli, Global Head of AIG Financial Lines. His chosen charity is Deirdre's House, a nationally accredited child advocacy center in Morris County for child victims of abuse and/or neglect and children who have witnessed domestic violence.
