NYC Sick Pay Deal Takes Litigation Blitz Off The Table
By Pete Brush

Law360, New York (March 29, 2013, 7:07 PM ET) — New York City employers who oppose legislation requiring them to provide paid sick leave might not be fully satisfied by a compromise that would force employees to exhaust administrative remedies before filing suit, but the deal will protect them from predatory litigation, industry lawyers said Friday.

Their comments came after New York City Council Speaker and mayoral candidate Christine Quinn — who had refused to bring the controversial measure up for a vote citing economic concerns — caved in to pressure from an overwhelming majority of…
