

KD Alert: Indefinite Leave of Absence...A “Reasonable Accommodation”?

Based on recent changes to both federal law and EEOC regulations, employers may have to permit disabled employees to take leaves of absence longer than the 12 weeks required by the FMLA, and in some cases, indefinitely.