

Mary Jo Barry

Overview

Mary Jo Barry is the co-managing partner of our New York City office. Her practice focuses on insurance including directors' and officers', fiduciary coverage, and other professional liability coverage and litigation matters.

She has served as monitoring and coverage counsel to primary carriers, excess carriers and reinsurers based in the US, Canada, Europe, Bermuda and other offshore jurisdictions. She has successfully resolved hundreds of high exposure matters through negotiation, litigation, arbitration and mediation, including many of the industry's most significant financial frauds and complex cases.

Ms. Barry's diverse experience includes securities class actions, shareholder derivative actions, class and creditors' breach of fiduciary duty claims – including claims arising out of mergers and acquisitions, stock options backdating and bankruptcies – and consumer class action, employment liability, bankers' liability, mortgage lenders/brokers liability, investment advisor/mutual fund liability, professional negligence claims, cryptocurrency and cyber risks. She has participated in a significant number of mediations, arbitrations and litigations of these claims with respect to both the settlement of the underlying claims and in connection with coverage disputes.

Ms. Barry has also provided guidance and assistance to a number of carriers on underwriting and product development, including drafting specimen and manuscript policies, endorsements and coverage agreements. Her legal career has been forged by her sound judgment and commitment to clients and by building long-standing relationships not only with her clients, but also mediators, plaintiffs and defense counsel, policyholders and their counsel, and other insurers and their outside counsel.
