

New Louisiana Law Aims To Prevent Health Care Facility Violence, author Mark Carver, Esq., New Orleans City Business, Sept. 19, 2022

Having a workplace violence prevention plan and program can help the facility and employees recognize potentially dangerous situations, minimize the risks of violent encounters and help to protect staff and patients.

Subscribers can read the full article at the link.

Mark C. Carver, partner in Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck's New Orleans office authored an article published in the New Orleans City Business. Mr. Carver focuses on employment law, complex civil and commercial litigation and general casualty defense. He represents and advises business owners on legal issues that arise from the employer/employee relationship, including wage and hour laws, disability leave laws, workplace harassment, employee discrimination and wrongful discharge.