

Protect Your Directors & Officers In Today's Business World! - Webinar Presented by Ivan Dolowich

Time: 10:30 AM PT / 1:30 PM ET

This webinar is designed for your organization's directors and officers, in-house and General Counsel, and compliance professionals. Please pass along this invitation to the appropriate individuals within your organization.

Description: This webinar will answer these questions and more:

- What are the duties of care and loyalty? How do they apply to the actions of directors and officers?
- Who must satisfy the duties of care and loyalty?
- How do these duties work alongside business interests of investors/owners/shareholders?
- What is the Business Judgment Rule? When does it apply? How does it work? Who does it apply to?
- When does the Business Judgment Rule not apply? Why doesn't it apply? What happens when it doesn't apply?

Note: This is a special webinar is designed to help your directors and officers understand how to meet their obligations and qualify for a "safe harbor" known as the business judgment rule.

Speaker: Ivan J. Dolowich, Esq. is a managing partner of Kaufman Dolowich & Voluck, LLP and a nationally recognized, AV® Preeminent™-rated attorney experienced in directors and officers (D&O) liability, financial-related lines, professional liability, and errors and omissions (E&O) matters. Mr. Dolowich's long record of accomplishments includes managing all aspects of litigation and claims involving insurance agents and brokers, investment advisors, attorneys, accountants, architects and engineers, insurance companies, financial institutions, public companies, directors and officers, representations and warranties, and not-for-profit organizations and their boards.

For more information and to register, click here.