

Vincent Green quoted in "3 Tips For A Smoother Road To Payday," Law360

New York (April 16, 2014, 6:24 PM ET) — It can be a tough topic to broach, but experts say when it comes to getting paid on time and in full, the best approach is to be organized, candid and specific about what clients are paying for, while some suggest adding personalized notes and offering some services for free.

Billing can often be a headache for both attorneys and their clients when multiple adjustments and appeals drag out the process, but experts say attorneys often get the reasons for this wrong.

It's likely not the...