Women to Watch Conference (CLM)

Claims Litigation Management (CLM) ends the year of conferences, continuing education, and networking events with the Business Insurance and CLM Women to Watch conference. Being held at the Grand Hyatt New York on December 14-15, 2017, this conference promises to recognize female leaders in the insurance world who possess excellent leadership skills and qualities. Conferences, such as this, are a great opportunity for members of KD's Women's Initiative to network with like-minded attorneys and professionals in the fields of law and insurance.

KD encourages the female attorneys in the firm to attend this event. Business Insurance & CLM Women to Watch is a professional development conference whose objective is to help accelerate women’s career advancement in the commercial insurance industry. The program concludes with an awards ceremony that recognizes 25 honorees from commercial insurance, risk management, employee benefits and related fields such as consulting and law.
